

March 26, 2010
Submitted by K.H.

I find it fascinating that there are no negative comments listed here. I am a 40 year veteran Scientologist with lots of friends in the Sea Org and have never seen any evidence of this alleged abuse. You say you have no real evidence so isn't it irresponsible of you to state categorically that this is happening? I question your agenda. What do you have against the Church of Scientology? Why aren't you writing about things which can be proven like their work helping victims in Haiti, Katrina and at 911? Why aren't you writing about their anti-drug programs or their work fighting for Human Rights? What is your agenda? - K.H.